Your Tenancy Agreement

Community Gateway Association owns your property and is your landlord.

This Tenancy Agreement sets out your rights and responsibilities as a tenant and those of Community Gateway Association.

This agreement is a legally binding contract between you and Community Gateway Association and records information such as your name, the date you become a tenant and the initial rent. Before you sign the tenancy, you will be asked to provide proof of identification.

Please read this document carefully. If there is anything you do not understand, please contact us for further information.

Other formats

Our communities are diverse and, as such, we have improved the tenancy agreement to make it easier to understand. The tenancy agreement can be made available, on request, in large print, Braille, audio tape or in a different language. We recognise that a number of current and future tenants may not use English as their first language. We have access to a translation service which can help to explain the document in many community languages. If you need this facility before you sign for a tenancy, please let us know.

About your Tenancy Agreement

This is a Tenancy Agreement between landlord' and you 'the tenant(s)'. This Tenancy Agreement is the document

The agreement gives you the right to live in your home. We would not interfere with this right unless any of the following applies:

1 You break any condition of this Tenancy Agreement. If you do, we may take legal action to force you to meet the conditions or we may ask the you move out. In these cases, we will

2 You are living in a property which physically disabled person and

- You no longer need that type of home and
- We need the property for someone else who requires a property with those adaptations.
- 3 We need to demolish, rebuild or carry out major repairs to your property which we cannot do unless provide you with suitable alternative accommodation. This will sometimes be temporary until we can offer you a permanent home.
- You do not occupy (or, if this is a joint tenancy, neither of you occupies) the property as your only or principal

5 Any other reason under the Housing Acts of 1988 and 1996, or under any future law.

We will give you reasonable notice if any of the above applies.

Section 1 Your rights as a tenant

1. Right to live in the property

You have the right to live in your home without interruption or interference from us, as long as you, and those living with you or visiting your home, comply with the terms of this tenancy and have respect for the rights of others. If any conditions are broken we may apply to the court to end your tenancy.

You must, however, live in your property as your only or main home and should you vacate or abandon the property then we can take steps to bring your tenancy to an end and remove any items of furniture or personal belongings which remain in the property. We will then hold them for a short period of time to give you an opportunity to collect them, following which we will destroy them. How long we keep these items will depend upon the circumstances of each situation.

2. Succession

If you die, your husband, wife, partner or civil partner may be entitled to the tenancy if they are living in the property as their only or main home at the time of your death. This is called 'succession'. Once you become a full assured tenant, the tenancy can also pass to a relative as long as they have been living with you continuously for at least 12 months immediately before your death. By law, only one succession can take place. If the tenancy is a joint tenancy, only the other joint tenant still living in the property after you die has the right to succeed to the tenancy. There will be no other right to succeed after the death of this tenant.

If your home passes to another member of your family (other than spouse) when you die, we will usually let them stay in the home. However, if the property is larger than is reasonably required, we may take steps to move them to another suitable home, either with their agreement or by following the legal procedure for doing so. If you are living in a property and the property has been adapted for occupation by a physically disabled person or it is our practice to let the property to persons with special needs (and there is no longer such a person living in the property) then we may take steps to move you to another suitable home, either with your agreement or by following the legal procedure for doing so.

3. Right to information and consultation

We will consult you about any decisions we make to do with managing or maintaining housing if these decisions are likely to have a major effect on your home or tenancy. This does not apply to setting rent. You also have the right to information about:

- The conditions of your tenancy
- Our responsibilities for carrying out repairs
- Our policies about consulting you, offering you a home and transferring your tenancy
- Any proposal on transferring housing stock to a new landlord.

You have the right to see certain information which we hold about you in connection with your tenancy. This means that you can check these details to make sure they are correct. If any of these details are incorrect or misleading, you are entitled to apply to have these removed, altered or to add a statement giving your own version of the facts.

You have the right to add your own comments or information to the copy of the details you have given us about yourself and your family in your application for a home or transfer.

4. Right to assign

You have the right to assign your tenancy in certain circumstances.

These include an assignment by way of mutual exchange, a right to assign to your partner if they are not a joint tenant and a right to assign to a family member in certain circumstances.

5. Right to acquire

In certain circumstances, you may have the right to acquire the property in which you live. This would ordinarily involve purchasing the property from us.

6. Right to complain

You have the right to complain about any of our services.

Section 2 Your responsibilities

Such offences include, but are not limited to, crimes of violence, theft, robbery, sexual offences, Public Order Act 1986 offences, drug-related offences, criminal damages, burglary and breaches of civil restraining orders and injunctions.

17. Gardens

You must keep your garden well maintained at all times. You are responsible for maintaining all parts of your garden including grass, plants, bushes, hedges and trees. You must keep hedges at a manageable height (no more than one metre high at the front of your home and no more than 1.8 metres at the back). They should not hang over a public right of way.

You must obtain our written permissio before you put up or take down any fence or wall. If you install your own fence or wall, then you will be responsible for its maintenance.

You must not erect a greenhouse, garage shed, temporary or permanent structure at your home without getting our written permission. If, and only if, permission has been granted you will be responsible for maintaining the structure.

You must not plant any trees without our permission.

You must not attach to any part of your property, including external walls, fences or other structures, any barbed wire, broken glass or other material which is likely to cause personal injury.

Note: If you cannot look after your garden due to your age or disability, you should contact Community Gateway Association.

You must not throw anything through or out of the windows of your home or from balconies or roofs.

You must not place anything on a window ledge, balcony or roof that could be a danger to anyone living in or visiting your home or local area.

Note: Extra Care Schemes -Balconies must not be used for BBQ's, use of any items with an open flame, or charging of electrical items. They must be kept clear of discarded rubbish and must not be used for storage of combustible materials, household items such as redundant electrical goods, furniture or dangerous items. Smoking is permitted on balconies although extra care should be taken to ensure that cigarettes etc. are fully extinguished and disposed of appropriately.

18. Insurance

You are responsible for insuring your home contents. We are not responsible for loss or damage to your possessions.

19. Overcrowding

You must not allow your home to become overcrowded. (For clarification and more information please speak to us).

20. Lodgers

As a result of the type and nature of the accommodation within which your home is situated and the need to maintain a supportive and appropriate community it is not appropriate for residents to take in a lodger to share their accommodation with them and for this reason yo are not allowed to take in a lodger. A lodger is a family member or otherwise who rents accommodation in your home or otherwise occupies your home with you.

21. Short term overnight visitors

There may be occasions when you wish to allow a friend or family member to stay overnight. This is permissible on an occasional basis and as long as they do not stay for more than two nights in any 14 day period. For any other short term arrangement, you should first obtain our written permission.

22. Pets and animals

You may keep a cat, dog or small pet at your property e.g. small caged animals such as hamster, budgie or fish.

However, it will be conditional upon you complying with the conditions in this agreement and conditions contained in our Responsible Pet Ownership Framework, and any special restrictions we may impose.

If you fail to comply with these conditions and special restrictions, in addition to any other enforcement action we may take, permission may be withdrawn. Permission will not be granted for:

- Any animal to which the Dangerous Wild Animals Act 1976 applies
- Any dog to which Section 1 of the Dangerous Dogs Act 1991 applies (unless it has been exempted from the prohibition)
- Any dog which has not been microchipped
- Any livestock (which includes but is no limited to cattle, pigs, poultry, donkeys, ponies, horses, sheep and goats).

You and anyone living with you or anyone visiting your property must not allow pets to frighten, annoy or cause a nuisance to anybody. This includes but is not limited to:

- Failing to clean up after your pet
- Failing to keep your pet under control at all times
- Letting your dog bark
- Creating any kind of danger to people's health.

38. Ending the tenancy

must give us at least four weeks' written notice, ending on either the first or the last day of a period of your tenancy.

If your tenancy is weekly and you pay rent weekly, then the written notice must end on either the Sunday four weeks after service or the Monday four weeks after service.

The notice is served if it is taken or delivered by post to Harbour House. If you do not give proper notice, you will continue to be responsible for the rent and other payments. It is your responsibility to ensure that we receive the notice and that it is properly completed.

You must allow our employees and contractors access to your home to inspect its condition before you leave. You must report all repairs that are needed at your home (before you leave) and replace or repair broken items that belong to us. If you do not, we will carry out the work and charge you for doing so

If you are a joint tenant and one of the other joint tenants gives a proper notice to end the tenancy which complies with the above requirements, then this has the effect of ending the tenancy for all of the tenants. In these circumstances we will consider whethe to provide alternative accommodation to the remaining tenant(s) and/or take possession proceedings to remove any remaining tenants if, for example, the property would be under occupied.

You must not allow any person who is not a tenant to remain living in your home when your tenancy has ended. If you have any lodgers or sub-letters, they must leave by the time your tenancy ends.

Keys handed in late may result in you being charged an extra week's rent, or, if you fail to return your keys, we can charge you for changing locks and obtaining new keys.

You must pay all rent and other charges which are due up to the date of the end of your tenancy, including any arrears.

leave your home clean and tidy. We will charge you the cost of making good any damage you have caused (not including fair wear and tear). For example, we could charge you for the cost of cleaning the sink, toilet, gully or drain, or for moving rubbish or unwanted furniture you have left behind.

animals left in the property when you leave and you must take reasonable steps to ensure that the property is free from rodent or insect infestation.

You must ensure the disconnection of any gas, electricity and water supplies and of household appliances is done safely and properly, and that this meets legal requirements and includes certification, when appropriate.

If you remove any fixtures or fittings which you have installed, you will be responsible for putting the property back to the way it was before you altered it. If you fail to do this, we may charge you for this work. All fixtures and fittings you have installed and are leaving in the property must be in good condition and proper working order.

When you leave your home it is your responsibility to ensure that we have your forwarding address in writing. If you should fail to supply us with this, we can continue to treat the property as your address for the purposes of serving letters, notices etc.

40. Insurance

We are responsible for making sure the structure of your home is insured. You are responsible for insuring the contents of your home (your furniture and belongings).

You are strongly advised to take out full contents and tenant's liability insurance for your home. This should cover the cost of replacing broken windows.

If you live in a flat, you should also take out insurance to cover you in case you cause damage to your neighbour's property.

Note: Community Gateway Association offers a home contents insurance scheme. Please contact us for more information.

41. Smoking ban

or at work. The same rules apply to communal halls in sheltered schemes and to shared entrances, lifts and hallways in blocks of flats.

Community Gateway Association can take action against a tenancy if a tenant, a member of their family or a visitor, smokes in a 'no smoking' area and it causes a nuisance to other residents.

Tenants can still smoke in their homes and gardens, however, with the smoking ban in place, Community Gateway Association aims to create a healthy working environment for all its staff and contractors. If we are working in your home for long periods of time, please smoke in a room where we are not working or, if you are in the same room, open the windows and doors and ensure the smoke escapes without filling the room.

41. Portable gas heaters and portable radiant electric fires

You must not use any type of portable gas heater or portable radiant electric fire if your home is situated within "pavilion style" accommodation.

Otherwise, if you occupy any other style of accommodation you must first obtain our written permission before you can use this type of space heating.

If permission is granted you will at all times have responsibility for ensuring that the heater is serviced on an annual basis and that proof of such servicing (for example in the form of an annual gas safety certificate is provided to us on an annual basis).
